

Elements of Ceremony and Ritual

2023 Courtesy of Arizona Funeral Resources & Education, In Arizona, no one is required to purchase the services of a funeral director or funeral home. Families may conduct any or all tasks commonly performed by a funeral home (except embalming which is not required by Arizona law and contracting with a crematory) and may bury on their own property. This chart illustrates the continuum of involvement that a family and their community can have with or without the support of funeral professionals.
